

SNOW NOTES

THE WRONGFUL CONVICTION OF JAMIE SNOW AND HOW THEY GOT AWAY WITH IT

Danny Martinez Recollection of Events

April 1, 1991 Police Report	March 4, 1999 Cold Case Interview	August 14, 2000 Claycomb Pre-trial	August 25, 2000 Claycomb Trial	Jan 2, 2001 Snow Trial
While filling his tire, he hears 2 pops.	While filling his tire, he hears his car backfire.	While filling his tire he hears 2 bangs, possibly his car backfiring.	While filling his tire on his knees he hears 2 bangs, possibly his car backfiring.	While filling his tire on his knees, he hears 2 bangs, possibly his car backfiring.
		He looks at the gas station, and sees the suspect come out of the door backwards.		He looks at the gas station, and sees the suspect come out of the door backwards.
He finishes filling and walks towards the door. He sees the suspect with his hands in his pockets, surprised.	He finishes filling his tire in 2-3 minutes. He walks a couple steps towards the station, sees the suspect come halfway out of the door backwards.	He finishes filling his tire in seconds, gets up, and walks towards the door.	He finishes filling his tire in one minute. He stands up and sees the suspect come out of the door backwards and walk across the front of the station.	He finishes filling his tire, gets up, and walks towards the door.
He hears his car dying, he turns around to check, he turns back to the store, sees the suspect turn the corner and walk down the alley.	He hears his car dying, he turns around to check, he turns back to the store, almost runs into the shocked suspect, 3 feet away, with his hands in his pockets, and he could have been holding something. The suspect walks down the alley.	He hears his car dying, he turns around to check, he turns back to the store, and sees the surprised suspect. He walks towards the station, the suspect passes him and turns the corner.	He hears his car dying, he turns around to check, he turns back to the store, and sees the shocked suspect facing him, one foot away, with his hands in his pockets and something under his jacket.	He hears his car dying, he turns around to check, he turns back towards the store, and sees the shocked suspect facing him, 1-3 feet away, with his hands in his pockets, holding something.
		He really notices the man's white and bright eyes, like he has been out all night under the influence of drugs or alcohol.	He really notices the man's eyes, like he has been out all night under the influence of drugs or alcohol. The suspect turns the corner and walks on a patch of grass towards the alley.	They make eye contact, and he notices the man's eyes wide and white, like he has been out all night under the influence of drugs or alcohol, and he will "never forget those eyes."
He continues towards the station, a black pickup truck arrives, the police arrive and tell the driver not to enter.	He continues two steps towards the station, and hears an officer across the street say, "Hey back up," and ask if he saw anyone. He tells the officer he saw a suspect.	He continues two steps towards the station, someone else pulls in, and hears an officer across the street say, "Hey back up," and ask if he saw anyone. He tells the officer he saw a suspect.		He continues walking towards station, but an officer across the street calls out for him to stop.
				The suspect turns the corner and walks on a patch of grass towards the alley.
	A black pickup truck arrives, the officer tells the driver get out of here, and also tells him to back up and go home.	The officer does not pursue and tells him to back up his car.	A black pickup truck arrives. He continues walking towards station, but an officer across the street calls out for him to back up, and asks if he saw anyone. He tells the officer he saw a suspect.	The officer tells a black pickup truck driver to get out of there. He asks him if he saw anything. He tells the officer he saw a suspect.
He parks across the street and tells the officer he saw a suspect.	He parks across the street and goes home.	He tells the officer he lives next door and he will be over there.	He parks across the street and goes home.	He parks across the street and goes home.